

As part of our Plastic Pollution topic this half term some of the children in Key Stage 2 went down to Howdiemont Sands to do another litter pick. After the huge success of our last litter pick in the summer term, it was something that the children were keen to do. We walked down to the beach and spread out in our groups to cover as large of an area as possible. In total we managed to collect 8kg of rubbish between us! We tried lifting the bag and discovered just how heavy it was.

Meanwhile, back at school, some of children composed letters to their local MP about the use of plastics and the effect that they have on the environment.

After carrying out an activity on micro-plastics, we could see how easily birds and marine animals eat these tiny bits of plastic where they then enter our food chain. We all agreed that everybody must do their part in ensuring that plastic pollution comes to an end so that we can protect the wonderful world in which we live.
