

Teamwork

This year the children in St. Patrick's Class have been working hard to improve their teamworking skills.

We have had a whole term of Commando Joes as part of our PSHE learning. Our coach Jamie has set us lots of challenges that we can only complete successfully if we work together as a team. We have learnt how to listen to others and to give everyone the opportunity to have a voice.

Sometimes this has been quite difficult, especially if we think we have the best idea but someone else's is used instead.

In the summer term, we decided to put our skills to the test and went on a school trip to Clarty Commandos.

This time all of the challenges were in the woods, but again we had to work as a team if we wanted to succeed. We had to go around an obstacle course as a team without leaving anyone behind.

Then we had to carry equipment with us; either a bucket of water or a 'man'.

The skills we have learnt will help us whenever we need to work together!
