

Here are some recommended reads to go alongside our topic on energy and the resources we use. There are lots of different books out there that look at a whole range of environmental and habitat issues, but I have chosen these because they look at different energy sources. Some are picture book style, but are still very informative.

